

The Equine MRI Explained!

May 2019 Newsletter

Caring for the Senior Competitive Sport Horse

Part 2

The veterinarians at Palm Beach Equine Clinic take pride in emphasizing the importance of proper care for equine athletes that are aging into their senior years. Advances in equine medicine are enabling horses to perform longer. Last month, we discussed the importance of routine veterinary examinations to ensure top health, appropriate fitness programs to maintain stamina and muscle mass, treatments for physical discomfort, and proper care throughout the hot summer months. This month, we highlight how the evaluation of metabolic and organ function and proper parasite control can benefit the senior horse.

Horses from the ages of 12 and older are considered "senior." Many horses that are in the prime of their careers are over this threshold and may require extra maintenance in order to continue performing at their best. Maintaining these athletes in peak condition requires teamwork between the owner and their veterinarian.

Read More

Did you miss Caring For The Senior Performance Horse Part 1?

Catch Up Here

Meet Palm Beach Equine Clinic's Dr. Robert Brusie

Palm Beach Equine Clinic's surgical team leader, Dr. Robert Brusie, is a nationally renowned board-certified surgeon whose surgical specialties include orthopedic, arthroscopic, and emergency cases. Dr. Brusie has been the head surgeon with Palm Beach Equine Clinic for the last 20 years and is a beloved part of the team.

Dr. Brusie graduated from Michigan State University (MSU) College of Veterinary Medicine. He completed his surgical residency at the Marion DuPont Scott Equine Center in Virginia in 1989 and has been in private practice ever since. He became a Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Surgeons in 1994. Dr. Brusie joined the Palm Beach Equine Clinic team in 1996.

A board-certified surgeon, Dr. Brusie is recognized for his expertise in colic surgery, as well as for his skill in arthroscopic surgery. His surgical experience expands the clinic's progressive care in both emergency and elective procedures. He has published articles on numerous topics, including the equine intestinal tract and septic arthritis in horses. Dr. Brusie is married and has three daughters.

Find Out More About Dr. Robert Brusie

Featured Service: The Equine MRI

Palm Beach Equine Clinic has the most advanced state-of-the-art diagnostic imaging equipment available. More specifically, the Equine Standing MRI (Magnetic Resonance Imaging) is a piece of technology that allows Palm Beach Equine Clinic veterinarians to quickly and accurately diagnose injuries for their clients.

Every horse owner dreads seeing signs of lameness or discomfort in any horse, whether it is a backyard companion or a top-caliber sport horse. For performance horses, however, one of the first questions many owners ask upon contacting a veterinarian about a problem is, "Can the horse safely and comfortably return to work?" Using Palm Beach Equine Clinic's cutting-edge technology, the clinic veterinarians are best equipped to answer that question.

The standing MRI produces highly detailed images in several different planes to capture a complete image of a desired area. An MRI is best used to further define a specific area of bony or soft tissue that has been pinpointed as the origin of lameness and helps determine a correct diagnosis in a timely manner.

Learn More About Magnetic Resonance Imaging

Where In The World Are Palm Beach Equine Clinic Veterinarians?

Palm Beach Equine Clinic is proud to offer services to its clients outside of Wellington and has veterinarians traveling throughout the United States and many countries all over the world. Palm Beach Equine Clinic veterinarians are passionate about assisting clients at the major national and international competitions. Contact the clinic to find a Palm Beach Equine Clinic veterinarian near you!

Palm Beach Equine Clinic Satellite Services with Dr. Gomez

From The Waiting Room

To all the wonderful people who reached out to me, this beautiful soul is going to be okay! Thank you to all the doctors, techs, and residents at #PalmBeachEquineClinic who are taking such wonderful care of her.

I am so grateful! ~ Annabelle Gundy

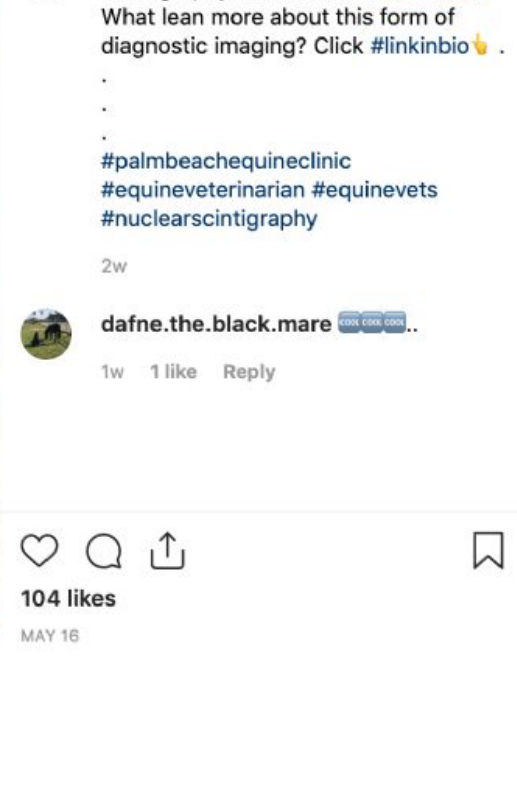

annabellegundy
Wellington, Florida

Alexa the polo pony.

Let's Get Social

ABOUT THE CLINIC

CLINIC SERVICES

MEET THE VETERINARIANS

CONTACT PALM BEACH EQUINE CLINIC

JUMP MEDIA

Raising The Bar In Equestrian PR

