As New Hope is our Featured Horse of the Year, with a donation of $100, we will send you a ceramic bisque double-sided ornament with New Hope's picture, along with a personalized card. New Hope was born at DEFHR in 2021 and has become a symbol of hope and resilience for the farm. She ended up in a state of neglect before being rescued by DEFHR. New Hope brought so much joy to the farm. On days when we felt defeated by the state of the world, she continued to serve as a constant reminder of why our work at DEFHR is so important. We're very excited to share that little Hope has been adopted and is now in her forever home!

In last month's newsletter, we highlighted New Hope, a miniature filly that was born at Days End Farm Horse Rescue in 2020. She ended up in a state of neglect before being rescued by DEFHR. We're proud that we could provide a voice for Clover and countless others just like her in a prominent equestrian publication. As part of Equestrian Living Magazine's Philanthropy Issue, DEFHR's very own Erin Clemm Ochoa discusses the organization's mission in depth and how it continues to grow in popularity. In our monthly column on Horse Network, learn about the trend of adopting a horse as a companion-only animal is one that continues to grow in popularity. In our recent issue of The Competitive Equestrian, the topic of adopting a successful racehorse and broodmare, Quizzical Quartz, is explored. Formerly a successful racehorse and broodmare, Quizzical Quartz. Formerly a rescue, Quizzical Quartz.

If you're interested in adopting a horse, please visit our website at Days End Farm Horse Rescue, where you can browse our list of available horses. If you have any questions or need more information, please email us at adopt@DEFHR.org. Thank you for your support and for considering adopting a horse to give them a second chance. We are so thankful that this little filly found a home and a family of her own. She will continue to serve as a constant reminder of why our work at DEFHR is so important.
