

Bringing you news, advice, and tools to improve your barn management experience

On the Blog

BarnManager welcomes new guest bloggers Emily and Sarah Harris, a.k.a. Sisters Horsing Around, to provide exciting and informative content to our readers and horse fanatics everywhere. Emily, 23, and Sarah, 16, are horse-crazy siblings who want to share their passion with the world.

Meet Emily and Sarah

We started Sisters Horsing Around in 2018 in an effort to put into motion the things our mother had spoken to us about when we were younger, such as how blessed we were to have horses and how not many black children had the same opportunities we did. She would often tell us that she wanted us to remember those in our black community and when we "got big," meaning make it big in life, she wanted us to provide an opportunity for others to get involved with horses.

Sarah, who was around 9 or 10 years old at the time, responded, "Why do we have to wait until we get big?" Because of those conversations, we thought of ways to put that in action and not delay, and the idea for Sisters Horsing Around was born. We have been trying our best since then to provide an opportunity for others to learn about and get involved with horses.

Celebrate International Women's Day With Top Female Show Jumpers

On Monday, March 8, join Horse & Style Editor-in-Chief Sarah Appel as she talks with top professional female equestrian athletes Hannah Selleck, Georgina Bloomberg, Laura Kraut, Karen Polle, and Mavis Spencer participating in the only Olympic sport where women and men compete against one another.

The panel will talk about the challenges, benefits, and idiosyncrasies that these leading female show jumpers navigate in this elegant, demanding, and uniquely gender-neutral sport.

TIP OF THE MONTH

Changes in weather can cause stubborn scratches on horses' legs that are painful and difficult to treat. To prevent scratches through this season of wet and unpredictable weather, put vinegar in a spray bottle and spray your horse's legs to keep them healthy.
