American-Bred Horses in Expanded Number of Divisions and Classes Are Eligible for the Award

Upper Marlboro, Md. — For the third year in a row, Laura Connaway, of Connaway & Associates Equine Insurance, will present a special award to the American-bred horse who earns the highest scoring round across all professional divisions and classes at the Capital Challenge Horse Show running October 1 through October 10 at the Prince George's Equestrian Center in Upper Marlboro, Maryland.

This year, entries across an expanded list of divisions will be eligible for the award. American-bred horses competing in the professional hunter divisions, green hunter 3' and 3'3" divisions, the WCHR Professional Challenge, and the WCHR Developing Professional Challenge at the Capital Challenge Horse Show have the opportunity to earn the Connaway & Associates Equine Insurance Services, Inc. High Point American-Bred Horse Award providing that their breeding information is correct and up-to-date in the horse show office.

"Recognizing North American breeders is something that I'm personally very passionate about and I am thrilled to again partner with the Capital Challenge Horse Show to recognize the accomplishments of American-bred horses and fellow breeders in the U.S. and Canada," said Connaway, who competes in the grand prix show jumping divisions as an amateur with her homebred horses.

The winner of the inaugural award in 2019 and subsequent award in 2020 was Monday Balous, ridden by Canada's Cassandra Kahle and co-owned by Don Stewart and Emil Spadone of Redfield Farm. The 12-year-old Dutch Warmblood gelding (Balou du Rouet x Coriano) was bred by Karin Morgenstern Jimenez and Carlos Jimenez, DVM, of Sporting Chance Farm in Coatesville, Pennsylvania.

Cassandra Kahle and Monday Balous scored an 88.5 in an over fences class in the High-Performance Hunters to earn the award and help them go on to clinch the division championship at the 2020 Capital Challenge Horse Show. Photo by Jump Media.

The 2021 High Point American-Bred Horse Award will be presented on Friday evening, October 8, prior to the popular $25,000 WCHR Professional Finals competition.

Summer Storms Are Here: Q&A With Carlyne Tanner

Jumper Nation

The summer storm season is upon us and while we never like to think about the worst, farm and horse property owners need to be prepared for potential damages caused by weather events. Insurance policies can be a daunting subject to some, so Jumper Nation featured a Q&A with Carlyne Tanner, head of the Farm & Liability Department at Connaway & Associates Equine Insurance Services, Inc., about how farm property owners can protect themselves and some of their most valuable assets.
