October 27, 2022 – Upper Marlboro, MD – The 2022 Washington International Horse Show, presented by MARS Equestrian™ continued on Thursday, October 27, at Prince George's Equestrian Center in Upper Marlboro, Maryland, where daytime junior hunter competition gave way to the first evening session, featuring the opening international jumper classes during Barn Night, held in partnership with Green Is The New Blue. It was the Irish who struck first as Daniel Coyle and Legacy turned and burned for victory in the $75,000 Welcome Stake, followed by a win for Israel with Daniel Bluman and Ubiluc leading the victory gallop for the $36,000 International Jumper Accumulator class.

"The first class is usually a smaller class, which makes it a little easier for everybody to get introduced to the ring and the crowd, obviously," remarked Coyle of his first trip around the Show Place Arena. "Sometimes it can be daunting going straight into a big class like that, but it worked out for me tonight."

Twenty-eight starters represented 10 countries in the star-studded field, where nine combinations managed to jump fault-free across Bernardo Cabral's (POR) first round track to advance to the jump-off. Katie Dinan (USA) produced the first double clear with Grant Road Partners LLC's Atika des Hauts Vents in 30.80 seconds. Next in the ring, Coyle shaved more than three seconds off the time, blazing through the timers in 27.42 seconds. Hunter Holloway (USA) and Pepita con Spita, owned by Hays Investment Corp., came the closest with a clear effort in 30.32 seconds, but in the end it was Coyle and Legacy who finished on top. Holloway ended in second, and Dinan was third.

"Actually, the jump-off was only six fences, and an indoor arena is usually quite short," explained Coyle. "I would say probably the turn back to the double combination and the second to last fence is where it came up good for me."

Savannah Smith, who trains with Dorna Taitar and Michelle Mahoney, was presented with the Laura Pickett Trophy for Excellence in Horsemanship, donated by Vicki Lowell in memory of Laura Pickett, who was a very special equestrian and trainer who lost her fight with breast cancer at just 52 years old after a five-year battle. The award honors the "up-and-coming" adult or child rider and their trainer who best exhibits the enthusiasm, dedication, style, and commitment to excellent horsemanship that brings out the best in horse and rider at the Washington International Regional Horse Show and Zone 3 Finals.
